Position: Instructor, Classroom Assessment

The Educational Measurement, Research and Evaluation program at the University of South Florida is seeking to fill an Instructor position focused on teaching courses in classroom assessment. The program is housed within the Department of Educational and Psychological Studies. This is a 9-month position effective August 7, 2015. Major responsibilities include teaching undergraduate classroom assessment courses for pre-service teachers and courses in measurement and research methods at the master’s level (delivered in the classroom and online) as well as supervising graduate teaching assistants or other instructional staff in a multi-section undergraduate measurement course for pre-service teachers. Instructors are expected to teach 4 courses each semester, unless other duties are assigned. Applicants from ABDs accepted but all degree requirements must be met by the start date: August 7, 2015.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Earned doctorate with a major in educational measurement or related field
- Graduate level coursework in the area of assessment or measurement
- Prior teaching experience with evidence of strong teaching skills

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Evidence of successful teaching experience in educational measurement, including classroom assessment in a teacher preparation program, at the graduate and/or undergraduate levels
- Experience and interest in supervising graduate teaching assistants or other instructional staff in a multi-section undergraduate measurement course for pre-service teachers
- Evidence of successful teaching experience in research methods at the graduate level
- Experience with online instruction, online assessment, electronic portfolios, and the use of technology in assessment
- Prior K-12 teaching experience

SALARY: Negotiable, competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION PROCESS:

USF welcomes applications from qualified applicants who have knowledge of and experience with individuals representing diverse backgrounds and cultures. Applications should include a letter describing qualifications for the position in each of the above areas, current vita, copies of one or more recent research articles (maximum of 4) presented at professional conferences or published in refereed journals, and the names, addresses, telephone numbers and e-mail addresses of four professional references. Please specify Position #2940. Position finalists will be required to provide official university transcripts and letters of recommendation from professional references. Letters from references are not required at the time of application. References will not be contacted until advanced stages of screening, and candidates will receive prior notification.

Applications must be submitted electronically to https://employment.usf.edu. Full consideration will be given to complete applications received by 5:00 pm EST on November 1, 2014. Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

Questions about the position may be directed to Dr. Robert F. Dedrick, Chair of the Search Committee, e-mail address: dedrick@usf.edu

The University of South Florida is a high-impact, global research university dedicated to student success. USF is classified by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in the top tier of research universities, a distinction attained by only 2.2 percent of all universities. The Carnegie Foundation also classifies USF as a community engaged university. The USF System has an annual budget of $1.5 billion, an annual economic impact of $4.4 billion. The system has three separately SACS accredited institutions: USF, USF – St. Petersburg, and USF – Sarasota –Manatee. USF in Tampa serves more than 48,000 students.
The College of Education is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and is among the US News and World Report top 40 for online programs. The College has 3,000 enrolled students in bachelor's, master's, Ph.D., Ed.D., and Ed.S. degree programs. In the current academic year the College has active external grants and contracts for over $42.9 million in support of its research and professional service efforts.

The Educational Measurement, Research, and Evaluation Program includes eight faculty members and offers degree programs at the Master’s, Ed.S., and Ph.D. levels. The program has a strong tradition of inquiry and scholarship, quality teaching and mentoring, commitment to diversity, and service to colleagues within the College, University, P-12 schools, and professional associations. For more information about the program in Educational Measurement, Research and Evaluation, please visit our website at http://www.coedu.usf.edu/main/departments/me/me.html

USF is an Equal Opportunity Institution. For disability accommodations, please contact Jody Duke at (813) 974-3220 (vduke@usf.edu) at least five working days in advance of need.